

Ash Hawthorn

Technical Writing Professional

Seattle, WA · (740) 274-8104 · ash.m.hawthorn@gmail.com

Impact-oriented writer with a demonstrable history of effectively communicating complex information clearly, concisely and accurately, with relatable language for technical and non-technical audiences. Experienced in developing complex, in-depth artifacts for internal and external audiences, and managing projects requiring coordination with multiple colleagues/teams. Excel in ambiguous environments with multiple parallel projects, and delivering high impact results.

Core Competencies

- Planning
- API Documentation
- Publishing External Documentation
- User Journey Creation
- SQL, PostgreSQL
- HTML, CSS
- Confluence
- Jira, Zendesk
- Continuous improvement

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Whidbey Health— Clinton, WA

Patient Registrar

Dec 2024 – Present

- Create internal user guide documentation regarding Meditech Expanse EHR software.
- Provide said documentation (with regular updates) to senior staff for continued employee training.
- Assist multiple teams and clinics across the region with patient registration, scheduling, and billing.
- Manage own schedule to ensure multiple clinical locations receive adequate support.

BCT Partners – Newark, NJ (remote)

Technical Writer/Systems Analyst

Nov 2022 - Nov 2024

- Authored and maintained over 30 technical documents, including: end user guides, software release notes, customer communications, and employee training materials.
- Met daily with software engineering and data analytics teams to stay current on updates to a federal case management platform.
- Balanced technical writing work with daily technical support tasks (Tier I through Tier III).
- Provided documentation to senior staff for effective training of future employees and end users.

Unite Us – Chicago, IL (remote)

Technical Support Analyst

Jan 2022 - Nov 2022

- Managed a project focused on creating and maintaining plain-language training materials for future employees.
- Met twice weekly with support and senior staff to stay up-to-date on latest changes to the product, training materials, and end-user support satisfaction.
- Effectively organized own schedule to balance technical support work with documentation creation and management.
- Regularly met with senior staff to present new documentation proposals for approval and future distribution.

NowPow (A Unite Us Company) – Chicago, IL (remote)

Community Resources Initiatives Specialist

Jan 2019 - Jan 2022

- Authored over 100 official program announcements and customer communications.
- Met weekly with senior staff and the Community Resources department to brainstorm performance improvements and solutions.
- Simultaneously handled technical writing work while accounting for community outreach, data entry, and data analysis tasks.
- Managed the updating of the department's Wiki via Confluence to reflect current best practices and performance expectations.

EDUCATION

Arizona State University

Aug 2014 - Dec 2018

Bachelor of Science - Family and Human Development

Graduated cum laude