Recooty

Application for Quality Assurance Lead

Dear Hiring Manager,

My extensive experience leading and scaling Quality Assurance departments, coupled with a proven track record in process enhancement and driving product quality, aligns precisely with the vision for the Quality Assurance Lead role at Recooty. For instance, at Professional Computing Resources, I spearheaded the transition from a single tester to a four-person team, concurrently establishing customized processes that significantly boosted both internal communication and the overall quality of deliverables. This hands-on experience in preparing for departmental scaling and elevating team performance directly mirrors your objective for a leader who can cultivate and expand your QA function. My technical acumen spans the full spectrum of QA methodologies, including adept ad hoc testing across various platforms and comprehensive test plan and strategy development. I am highly proficient in meticulous test case management, from creation to oversight, ensuring robust coverage. My background includes successfully directing a major migration from disparate systems to a unified Jira and Confluence environment, an invaluable experience given Recooty's current use of Jira. Furthermore, my recent development of automation using TypeScript with Playwright for comprehensive regression testing at Cavallo demonstrates my mastery of modern automation frameworks, complementing my long-standing expertise with tools like Selenium. Effective cross-functional communication is a cornerstone of my leadership philosophy. I excel as a liaison between QA and development teams, fostering seamless collaboration and driving efficient bug tracking and verification, which consistently leads to earlier bug identification and resolution. My experience extends to developing and implementing QA processes and policies designed for scalability, and I have a strong background in coordinating both on-site and remote teams, similar to managing Recooty's offshore QA resources. This comprehensive approach ensures high quality standards are consistently upheld and actionable feedback is provided for continuous product improvement.

I am genuinely enthusiastic about the opportunity to bring my eight years of dedicated experience as a QA Lead to Recooty. My proven leadership in managing and scaling QA teams, combined with deep technical expertise in automation and process optimization, positions me to significantly contribute to the excellence of your Aries products. I am confident that I possess the strategic mindset and hands-on skills required to lead your QA initiatives and eagerly anticipate the chance to discuss how my background can directly benefit your upcoming milestones, such as product launches or quarterly planning.Sincerely,
